From the desk of the Chief Executive

Welcome to our second newsletter for 2015. The time since we last wrote to you has flown but, as you'll see from our latest news, we've been spending it well.

With thanks to The Carob Kitchen and Minter Ellison SA/NT, we've given hundreds of Easter eggs away to a lot of grateful children and their families. We've started a new advertising campaign to recruit more carers - you might have seen our recent advertisement in The Messenger. And of course we've continued our core work of placing children in need with volunteer carers.

I hope you enjoy our latest newsletter.

- Jennifer Duncan
Chief Executive

We need your vote!

The SA government has recently launched Fund My Community; a new grant program designed to fund organisations that improve the wellbeing of disadvantaged South Australians - by popular vote!

Time for Kids has submitted an application to recruit desperately-needed carers for the many children on our waiting list. Our project would fund recruitment and assessment of carers for some of our most vulnerable kids.

We will be asking all of our supporters, volunteers, carers and the general public to go online and support our application. Voting opens on 13 April - so stay tuned!

Seeking volunteers for a special project!

Late last year, Time for Kids was awarded a grant to completely makeover our foyer to make it a real child haven. Today, there is one outstanding task: to paint the walls a heavenly sky blue!

Would you be willing to come in over a weekend in the middle of the year to assist us in cleaning the walls and painting them? If this sounds like you email us at info@timeforkids.com.au or call 8440 8500.

Updates from the office

In 2013 we joined forces with the Adelaide Qantas team to host regular recycling days for the cans and bottles on Qantas flights. All proceeds have supported children in the Time for Kids program. While we don't have the date yet for the next recycling day, we can assure you that exciting things are happening and the regular sorting days will be up and running soon!

Register to attend an information night. The need for more volunteer carers continues as we work towards our mission of placing all of the children on our waiting list. If you or someone you know will make a great carer for one of our children, register now to attend an information night.
